

State Repression

and Social Movements :

Grand Juries, the Animal

Enterprise Terrorism Act, and Community Activism

A talk with legendary radical attorney Stu Sugarman and Professor

David N. Pellow

On the anniversary of the arrest of the AETA 4, join attorneys, sociologists, and community activists to learn about the history of state repression directed at social change movements and the defense of :

-the AETA 4, activists facing "animal enterprise terrorism" charges for sidewalk-chalking and other 1st- amendment-protected activities

-Scott DeMuth, facing false charges of "animal enterprise terrorism" -Carrie Feldman, in her third month of incarceration for refusing to testify before a grand jury potluck at 6:30

talk at 7pm

U of M campus

Where: Social Science Building Room 1114, When: Saturday, February 20th,

More info at: www.midwestgreenscare.org davenportgrandjury.wordpress.com aeta4.org

Sponsored by Scholars for Academic Justice, Earth Warriors are OK! (EWOK!), the Coldsnap Legal Collective, the Scott and Carrie Support Committee, and the Minnesota Global Justice Project